Applus+ engineering teams specialize in the development of testing solutions for rotary applications such as:

- Characterisation of torque and load transmissions
- Dynamic and fatigue testing of spinning components
- Bespoke designs combining rotation and external loads
- Equipment for maintenance testing and performance validation

Contact: info@appluslaboratories.com